

Point of Sale Software – for hair & beauty

It's Finally here.

- Any retail outlet has a place where customers can buy or order a number of items. The sales person or cashier records the items which were purchased, calculates the total sum of the items and hands the customer some kind of receipt, either manually or electronically.
- A software point of sale system connects and integrates all your business' components in one application. Inventory, sales, clients and suppliers are the basic components of such a system. This is exactly what innova.POS Solution has to offer you, an integrated and complete system in a simple to use software system!
- Keep your customers coming back with vouchers, and attract new ones with detailed information for their Sale
